Stand-alone Software provides devices record all, email, chat and instant messages, web sites visited, keystrokes typed, program launched with exact date and time, Log URLs all visits and online searches, PC name/Mac address etc.

These devices allows you to capture and save screen images while you are away from your computer, showing you exactly what was being viewed on your computer at specific intervals.

These software runs in the background of your operating system, making it almost impossible to detect using any conventional antivirus or anti-spy ware. You can also examine these information at your convenience later on any computer.

Benefits of Using Spy PC

Spy PC -Seeing Eye can bring an array of benefits to your business environment. With the ability to log all keystrokes, track web and program usage down to the second, and show you everything that has happened with screenshots, Spy PC helps you learn the truth and put your mind at ease!

Robust, Invisible Activity Recording, Totally Undetectable

Operating invisibly, record EVERYTHING your employee or users does with Spy PC wide-array of computer monitoring features.

Spy PC has been designed to be totally invisible and undetectable and can't be detected by any normal method. It doesn't appear in the computer file system, start menu, program list, and uninstall list, taskbar or program manager. The user will be totally unaware that everything they do is being secretly recorded.

Location Traker:

It's a technique to find out the actual position of any person or entity. Its task is to provide the exact location and track the movement of people.

- View a list of locations that the target has been to.
- Get location details like latitude and longitude.
- Get time and date stamps to find out when the target was at a specific location.

Know the browsing history:

Which websites are visited by the user? What different URLs he is entering in? What browsing data has he deleted?

Log all visits and online searches, and see how long each page was visited. All this thing can be known to you in one go. You can also restrict the usage of some malicious sites which can affect your business.
